Chapter 1

SISTER'S DAY

In the city there lived a salesperson who grew in a poor life, with no money. His house was a dirty, termite infested five room house. He lived with two daughters, one 18 and the other 15. They lived near a river, called the Singene River. He raised his daughters with compassion and confidence that they would soon become rich and help him with his life. But the circumstances would not go as planned. The two daughters were Michelle and Dylan. Michelle the younger one, was a beautiful woman with kind characteristics. Dylan the older one, had the smarts and could decipher any code, solve any problem, and answer any question. The two were best friends for a fact until it came to the summer of Dylan's leaving from the city of Singene. Unfortunately, Michelle was in summer school. Michelle was absolutely devastated that her friend for life was leaving their roof, but chances are Dylan will go to the nearest college, Red Feather College, only 30 min away. Dylan had not planned for this college, but for, Fonciano University, had been her real plan. To please her sister was not her priority but she was trying for both colleges. Michelle had not known about Dylan's secret plan until the first week of summer break when the mail came. As she opened the box she saw an entrance option letter for Fonciano University in the pile. Michelle stomped inside and screamed, "Did you enroll for this Fonciano University instead of your dream college". Dylan came into the room and tried to reason with her. "Red Feather is not my dream college, it's Fonciano, and I swore I would have told you sooner after school let out, but I did not want to crush your hopes," Dylan cried in a soft tone. Michelle slammed her bedroom door shut. The rest of the week was quiet until father's day. Michelle and Dylan had been counting down the days until today and together, weeks before, they had built a massage chair that they would present to him on this day. They hid it in Michelle's room where it had been stored for the past few weeks. At 11:30 exactly Michelle hid the chair from Dylan, put a cloth over it, and then brought it to Bryan Matt, their father. Michelle announced "Dad, there's something that I want to show you,". Before she could say one more word, Dylan yelled, "There's a green glowing thing here, Michy come here". Michelle raced in and saw the green glowing thing that had appeared in front of Dylan. "What is that," Michelle said. Soon after there was wind blowing out of it. It was not ordinary wind, this wind was grasping their hands like a mother pulling a kid away from a toy he could not have. Michelle's hand was disappearing and so was Dylan's, until there was no light and just dark. They had arrived in the Dimension of Mystery where any event can happen, and any person can appear.

Chapter 2

A MYSTERIOUS JOURNEY

“Where are we?” asked Michelle. “You are in the Dimension of Mystery,” a voice said. “I am Mesina, the guide to help sisters and brothers find themselves,” she said. Mesina provided Michelle and Dylan with a map around the Dimension of Mystery. “What is this, are you pranking me to cheer me up,” Michelle asked. “It’s not a prank young lady, but it will help you feel better,” Mesina responded. “This is dumb, I don’t need to go through a portal to make up with my little sister,” Dylan snapped. “You will each have to survive 7 challenges that earn bonds together to show that you are true sisters, and cut down on that attitude,”. She disappeared. “Good job Dylan, you made her disappear, now what will we do,” Michelle said. “Follow the map to our first challenge,” Dylan said. They were off to Mocking Mountain for their challenge. Mesina reappeared. “Good job on making it here,” she said. “For your first challenge, you will walk on a no-sided bridge, blindfolded, and tied together, good luck!". Michelle and Dylan were on the bridge blindfolded and tied together walking across. "Make sure you don't mess up like last time when you blew off Mesina with your attitude," said Michelle. "Oh Michy, you are always so competitive," Dylan remarked. They were half way across when Michelle was sliding off and was hanging onto Dylan's hand. "Help Dylan, I'm about to fall," Michelle cried. "Hold on tight," Dylan said. Then she swung Michelle up and they were back on track. Soon after, they made it to the end. "Well done girls," Mesina said. She disappeared. "So that's it we're done," Michelle said. "Did you not listen to that dumb fairy guide, she said we have 7 challenges and we finished 1, do the math if you know how," Dylan giggled. They were off into the woods for their next challenge when they came across a royal house with a Duke and his son celebrating an unknown occasion. They were singing Carols and other traditional songs. Little did the sisters know they were being watch by the Duke. As the sisters stepped inside they were trapped. "Who are you," said the Duke.. "I am a duchess," Dylan said. Dylan had lied for once since a very long time. This time it was even worse because she had lied straight up to royalty. She had made a big mistake. "Welcome Duchess Jenner me and my guests have been expecting your arrival, please forgive me for my rude words," Duke Alexander said. "What is my punishment, I am willing to spend the rest of my lifespan in the dungeon,". "You may be excused for this one event, but one more time you act in this manner, you will be executed," Dylan said with pride. "I understand, and your word is my priority," he said. "If you please, sit down with my guests they would like to present you with an honorary present,". Dylan sat down and the guests bowed at her. "Your majesty, we would like to present you with all our pride, these mystical jewels," one villager named Branson said. "We found this green jewel about five hours ago when a wind blew towards us and anonymous creatures were in the sky,". Suddenly Mesina's voice was talking in Michelle's and Dylan's heads. "You have received the gem of earth, a gem that will take you back to earth after the final battle," she said. "Is something wrong," asked Branson as he saw Dylan frozen. "I will accept your present, on one condition, you will never speak to me as if I was a royal because I do not speak with it," Dylan said as she took the gem. "Thank you for accepting this present," Branson said with joy. "She's an imposter," a running woman said. "I am Duchess Jenner, not that filthy rat," she said. Dylan and Michelle looked to the side and saw that a red haired lady had come late and refused to let Dylan take her spot as Duchess. Then something incredible happened. "I am in love with the duchess, and if you were really the duchess, you would not be as sweet and kind as Duchess Jenner," Duke Alexander said to the real duchess. In anger, Jenner left. Soon after, the guests had realized their mistake. The real duchess had red hair and Dylan had orange-like hair. The guests made Dylan, Michelle and Alex run for his mistake of letting Dylan in. "Why are they chasing us," Alex (Alexander) said. "They are crazy villagers, they are psychos," Dylan answered. Later on, the guests were out of sight and Dylan, Michelle and Alex were safe for know. "I am not the Duchess," claimed Dylan. "I still love you though no matter what your real identity is," said Alex. "Why," said Dylan. "Because I know who you really are and what you are here for," said Alex. "And I—love you for that,". The sun went down. "How is it already dark," asked Michelle. "In the Dimension of Mystery, time goes faster than earth," Alex replied. "I was once sent here at 11 with my brother, 17, when I was arguing with him over a simple problem,". "When we reached the last challenge he was killed by The Princess of Death,". "Who is she," asked Dylan. "The Princess of Death is a princess that was killed a long time ago and her spirit remained over Blood Kingdom, her old kingdom that once was ruled by her," Alex explained. "Our last challenge includes her!" shouted Michelle. "The last challenge is very difficult, after my defeat I came to the dead duke's house and lived my life there as Duke Alexander," said Alex. Not noticing the stars, Alex saw that the stars were now shifting into a shape. "Michelle and Dylan, I think the stars are making a shape, does it look familiar to you," said Alex. Indeed it did. The shape was their mother. Then the stars pointed in a direction. "Are you thinking what I am thinking," Dylan said. "Mother is in the direction that the stars tell us to go in," Michelle said. "Yes," said Dylan. "Then let's go find her," said Alex. After those words they were off into the direction not knowing they were being watched. "What is this trio, stomping over my land?" said an anonymous voice. "My princess, they are going after you and looking for May Anderson, their mother," said her assistant. "I killed her in a fire

20 years ago, shame on them," said the Princess of Death. "Her presence is in the woods where her daughters are lurking," said the assistant. "How could that be, I could have sworn that she is dead," said the princess. "You were naive and you did not kill her because you left her with an escape," said the assistant. The princess took her assistant, also brother, Lurn, by the neck and killed him. "I have had enough have people barging into my land with problems because of that pesky little fairy, Mesina, that cast this spell on me and took my kingdom," cried the princess. "It was never your kingdom to begin with," said Mesina hiding. "It was Shawn's, your love's," she said. "Shawn never loved me," she cried. "He did, you never accepted his love because your mother passed away," said Mesina. "In sadness, you killed him and took his kingdom,". "Be quiet, you little mule," said the princess. She took a knife and tried to stab Mesina but it did not work. "Oh Roslin, you forgot the rules, you could only kill fairies if you have love because of the spell I cast," said Mesina. "You cannot kill me either because of the curse I put on you," said Roslin (Princess of Death). "I would never have the need to kill," said Mesina. "The trio will find May and they will not kill you, they will entrap you in a far away land,". "Not if I kill them first," said Roslin. "You now cannot because I trapped you in here," said Mesina. "I believe you can change Roslin, you can be good, and we can put peace in all the dimensions," Mesina said. "I will never change and I will kill you after I find love, and I will kill the trio," said Roslin. "By the way, May will be killed as well,".

MOTHER MAY

“Are we there yet,” cried Michelle. “Yes we are,” said Alex as they arrived. “Mother, it’s Dylan, where are you,” yelled Dylan. Dylan, Alex, and Michelle heard a voice. It was not Mesina. “Dylan, Michelle?” said a voice. “Mother?” Michelle and Dylan said in sync. It was May Anderson. Michelle and Dylan’s long lost mother who had “died” in a “car accident” according to Dylan and Michelle’s father. “Dylan!” cried Mother. “Alex, were you helping my two wonderful daughters,” said Mother. “Guilty as charged, I have been helping them since they showed up at my house,” said Alex. “How did you even get here,” asked Dylan. “Me and auntie Mavis were in a fight when she came over for thanksgiving that year, which made me come here,” said Mother. “Dad said you died in a car accident,” said Michelle. “Your daddy knew about us, he even came with us, unfortunately, after the quest for challenges were done for us to, the portal back home only allowed two,” said Mother. “I pleaded for them to go and leave me here and they left together,”. “Alex dropped in and I helped him and his brother, Max, unfortunately died,”. “When you, dad, auntie Mavis went missing, we were only alone for two days,” said Michelle. “Your dad broke the rule, he entered the portal expanding the mass to make it hold three, but he couldn’t with the exit,” said Mother. “After their leave, the queen of death found me and attempted to burn me,”. “Luckily I survived,”. “If we ever do leave, would we only have been gone for a day,” asked Michelle. “If it takes a week, two days, a month, 1 week, a year, two months,” said Mother. “You have been here for 10 years in this world, but really you only have been gone for almost two years,” Dylan said. “I am so sorry, the princess of death cast a spell on me to be here that long, but I must stay here even though the spell wore off a long time ago,” said May. “I need to make a gem of mystery so I could send the princess of death to another world,”. “Why do you need to do that, she’s harmless because well—she’s dead,” Michelle said. “Her soul was restored and she is in a form where she cannot kill, but she does cause harm with her gem of earth, and can duplicate them with the price of sending people with problems to the land,”. “So it’s not Mesina,” asked Michelle. “She just tries to send you home so the princess will not harm you but with more gems, the princess can find a way to restore her humane features and become a real person again,” said May. “Also, I need all of the gems of earth so I could not only make a gem of mystery, to send all of us home,”. “Who are you, and what did you do to my carefree mother?” asked Dylan. “No time for questions, I need to make the gem under a full moon with 10 gems of earth and the next one is in 31 days,” said May. “I will help your mother, besides, you and Michelle are suppose to defeat the princess of death together and only you two,” said Alex. “Alright then, I guess we are off to the woods for our next challenge, goodbye Alex,” Dylan said. They did not know what was against them up next.
